The glass manufacturer will present a façade construction with a supporting glass fin.

Sedak Glass crystal clear in China

Sedak, based in Gersthofen, Germany will take part in the China Glass show which takes place on May 24-27, 2017. As an innovation leader for oversized glass and special solutions, sedak has developed considerable production know-how. The detail of the glass façade production that the company presents at China glass serves as an example for that. Even the supporting construction is transparent. The filigree connection of the glass fin and the glass units by means of toggles is technologically pioneering.

Thanks to the particularly small titanium inserts, maximum transparency and the highest level of static safety can be combined. During production, sedak laminates the inserts precisely in between the laminate's layers which makes installation on site easier and demonstrates sedak's exceptional lamination capabilities.
